With more than 600 participants every year, the European Pellet Conference in Wels is the largest annual pellet event in the world!

The European Pellet Conference offers a unique combination of events:

The event is part of the annual "World Sustainable Energy Days" conference, organised by the OÖ Energie-sparverband, the energy agency of Upper Austria. Upper Austria is an ideal location for such a conference: more than 25 % of all automatic biomass boilers sold in the EU are manufactured by Upper Austrian companies and pellet heating systems have become a standard solution in the region.
